

We believe that with the right support every person can achieve their potential.

SJOG believes that every person has intrinsic worth and inherent dignity, and that with the right support each and every person can achieve their potential.

We don't have one standard approach but creatively provide help and support to people in the way they want.

We continue to be inspired by the story of our founder, Saint John of God, who left us a legacy of providing value-based service to those most in need.

The home is purpose built to a high specification with twelve bedrooms and a range of shared areas including a large lounge and dining area, and spacious gardens. Bedrooms are furnished and decorated to people's personal choice.

Support Team

A competent, caring and committed staff team is available to meet the needs of those who use our services. Training and development of staff is a key priority for us to ensure service delivery is of the highest standard.

Terry Yorath House, like all SJOG services, is led by the people who use its services and individuals are encouraged to play a central part in the running of the service.

Support

People are supported to access a wide variety of leisure and social activities of their choice and develop skills:

Living skills - cooking, shopping, laundry, personal safety, rights and responsibilities.

Community living - finding out about services near their home including day services, accessing social and community activities, advocacy support, travel and holidays.

Respite

There are two rooms within the home to accommodate guests on a respite basis. These are available on referral by a care manager or by self referral. For further information or to arrange a visit, please contact the service manager at the address on the back page.
